Creating beautiful spaces

From staging homes that sell sooner and for more money to creating a home you'll love to live in, Melanie Henson and frequent collaborator Josée Lalonde bring a passion for design to every project.

Creating beautiful spaces for five years, the two turn a unique eye to clients' spaces. "In staging, we enjoy creating the picture of the lifestyle the potential buyer aspires to. We add design flair, giving our spaces that extra edge." Career highlights include a bedroom makeover for TV, several Boulevard magazine shoots, and participating in the "Hands Up Project," using their talents to create, inviting spaces for women in need. "For all of our design clients, creating a space they love to come home to is so rewarding."
